

BACK-END ASSIGNMENT

Create a spring boot application using in memory database with one entity - Course.

This entity should implement domain driven design concepts like, value objects , bounded context. Bounded context with respect to Course creator use role , teacher user role and student user role.

Endpoints-

-- /course/create - course name, subject, chapters no of classes, type - Personalised, Group, learn Mode- assisted, self learning.

-- /course/update -

-- /course/get- it should have different output for student and course developer/content developer.

Candidate can push their code in git public repo of their own and share the repo details as submission.